

STUDY REPORT 3

Inventory of Best Practices to Stimulate Reading and Promote Literacy Skills

- Recommendations:
- Communication on the program progress and achievements should be made paramount to bring consensus among stakeholders
- All activities that promote reading and numeracy be identified and supported for sustainability.
- Clarification of roles and project pre- conditions at the inception stage of the project
- All stakeholders be involved at inception on their expected support towards the project success

-
- Motivation of volunteers through incentives or gifts
 - Set clear objectives with specific activities. There should be flexibility among key players
 - Effective and Efficient monitoring of the project and program
 - All partners should be actively involved.
 - The projects should be anchored on a structural framework for easy of support.